

< 科目名 Subject > Seminar in Japanese Studies A

< 担当者 Instructors > Mark TIEDEMANN

< 授業の到達目標及びテーマ Class Theme >

Peace Studies

< 授業の概要 Summary >

This is a discussion class that will attempt to challenge students to become more knowledgeable in topics related to the achievement of peace and think more deeply about such things as the sources of conflict between nations and cultures and the nature of peace. The topic of peace will be looked at from different angles, including the quality of peace, its vulnerability, and ways to try to bring about this desirable, but elusive goal.

< 授業計画 Class Plan >

Causes of War

The Individual
The State
Ideological, Social, Economic
Deceiving the People

Building Negative Peace

Diplomacy, Negotiation, Conflict Resolution
Disarmament and Peacekeeping
International Organizations and International Law
Non-Violence

Building Positive Peace

Human Rights
Economic Well-Being
Ecological Well-Being
Peace Movements
Personal Transformation
The Japanese and Peace

< 評価方法 Evaluation >

50% daily quizzes over assigned reading materials

20% participation in class discussions

30% Presentation to the class about the contents of an additional reading selection related to the day's topic

< テキスト Textbooks >

Peace Studies: A Reader, David P. Barash, ed, Oxford UP

Hiroshima, John Hershey, Penguin